Somerville House, Brisbane

1-2 December 2007

Players, schools, parents, coaches, supporters

It's great to see a plan come together. Everything meshed - the teams and their enthusiasm, the superb playing and coaching facilities at Somerville House, the canteen and other support amenities, the organising effort - to give us a memorable weekend cementing the event as the flagship of the Australian schools calendar.

For all those who participated or were present, we hope this souvenir bulletin keeps the memory alive for years to come.

Congratulations to the winners and placegetters - the best of the best. Let's not forget of course that all the players were winners - they all won their way through their state qualification processes to reach the national finals.

Special thanks must go to -

The Principal and staff of Somerville House, for the use of their performing arts centre and other facilities

Charles Zworestine, for his customary standard of excellence as chief arbiter

Connie Pizzato and Graeme Gardiner, for their efforts on the organising committee

Patrick Byrom, Matt Gilpin and Tyson Walker, for their back-room support

Dawn Ford and her helpers in the canteen

Arbiter's Report

by Chief Arbiter Charles Zworestine

To paraphrase an old saying (using a bit of poetic licence along the way), good things come in neat packages... This is certainly true of the 2007 Australian Schools Teams Championships, where we celebrated the tenth anniversary of what has already become a very popular and successful event. It was fitting that on this celebratory occasion, Graeme Gardiner's brainchild should return to his home state of Queensland, where the great man himself was on a fantastic organising team that included Ian Murray, Connie Pizzato and Dawn Ford (among others). Their magnificent efforts provided us with a neat package of four divisions of six teams each, filling each division with Queensland sides where required to even out the numbers – no byes, everyone was happy! Only Tasmania and Northern Territory were not represented – hopefully that is to come in the future. But another neat package was the superb venue at Somerville House, an independent girls school 2 km from the city centre in Brisbane – their fifth floor auditorium was widely acknowledged to be the event's best venue yet. All of this enabled us to concentrate on the chess, which was expected to produce its usual excitement; and it certainly did so, perhaps in some cases more than others...

GIRLS PRIMARY: This was perhaps the most exciting of all the events, featuring as it did a close race undecided until the last round... The top two teams established themselves early, with Curtin (ACT) beating Fernvale (QLD) 4-0 in the first round, a result matched by top Queensland school Somerville House against Queensland rivals Somerset College. Summer Hill (NSW) thought they were also in contention after their 3-1 defeat of PLC (VIC). However, Round 2 made life much harder for Summer Hill, as they went down 3-1 to Curtin – their only win was when Rebecca Huang beat namesake Gala Huang after the latter walked into a skewer that cost her the exchange, then walked into mate! This point looked vital after Somerville took the outright lead with another 4-0 win (this time over PLC), while Somerset recovered from their early setback to beat Fernvale 3½-½... Closing out the first day, we knew things would be as tight as the 2-2 draw between Somerset and Summer Hill (too much summer!) – Curtin also beating PLC 4-0 to join Somerville in the lead. This is because Somerville had earlier conceded a point in their 3-1 win over Fernvale, Hannah Triscott suffering an accident against Miriama Gossow; so joint leaders on 11/12 going into Day 2...

Nothing changed in Round 4, as Curtin and Somerville drew their crucial match 2-2; what was noticeable about this match was that Black won every game... So the two horse race continued, while Fernvale's 2½-1½ upset win seemed to damage Summer Hill's chances of coming third – especially as PLC were able to beat Somerset 3-1... But it was always going to come down to the last round, as PLC were only able to beat Fernvale 3-1 – never enough to get third. But how would Curtin and Somerville fare? Would we have to go to tiebreaks (which would have favoured Somerville)? NO! cried Curtin, who were able to convincingly beat Somerset  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . This proved to be enough for a one point victory for the ACT school, as Somerville were only able to win  $2\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  against Summer Hill; thus Somerville had to content themselves with second place, with Summer Hill able to wrap up third.

Standings: 1st Curtin (ACT)  $16\frac{1}{2}/20$ ; 2nd Somerville College (QLD)  $15\frac{1}{2}$ ; 3rd Summer Hill (NSW) 9; 4th = PLC (VIC), Somerset College (QLD) 7; 6th Fernvale (QLD) 5.

OPEN PRIMARY: This one also looked to be wide open right from the start – I must confess to having no idea at the beginning who would win it! The first round offered some clue, as Hawker (ACT) defeated Lake Joondalup (WA) 4-0; but Hawker were certainly not completely comfortable, as the other two results were also convincing! All Saints (QLD) beat Mitcham (SA)  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ , while Board 1 Joshua Lau was the only one who could score a point for Summer Hill (NSW) as they went down 3-1 to Mount View (VIC). It looked to be a two horse race between Mount View and Hawker even as early as Round 2, as the former beat Lake Joondalup 4-0 to reach 7/8; but even this was not good enough for the outright lead after Hawker's  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  win against All Saints got them to  $7\frac{1}{2}$ ! Moreover Hawker proved Mount View were not even a patch on last year's 20/20 winners from Victoria (Essex Heights), with Niranjan Gupte's queen losing to the higher rated Michael Chan's two rooks on Board 1 but Hawker winning the rest to triumph 3-1. This left Hawker in good shape in the outright lead on  $10\frac{1}{2}/12$  going into Day 2, with Mount View still second on 8. Summer Hill's  $2\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  win against Mitcham in Round 2 represented some sort of recovery; they were back in third place on 7/12 after an excellent Round 3 win against All Saints by  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . Meanwhile Lake Joondalup were more than happy to get off their duck in their 3-1 Round 3 loss to Mitcham; Adam Chan was ecstatic to register their first victory over Amita Kaludewa!

Hawker faltered a little on the second day, their  $2\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  win against Summer Hill enabling Mount View to slightly narrow the gap by beating Mitcham 3-1. (Lake Joondalup lost  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  to All Saints). Still, a two point lead was comfortable enough; even after their shock  $2\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  loss to Mitcham, it still would have needed a 4-0 win by Mount View for the Victorians to overtake the Canberrans. Instead, Mount View suffered their own stunning reversal, going down  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  to All Saints – and suddenly Summer Hill spotted their chance! A 3-1 win against Lake Joondalup saw the NSW side join Mount View and All Saints on  $11\frac{1}{2}/20$ , three points behind the winners Hawker – but who would take out second place? A convoluted tiebreak meant you had to look at the individual matches between the three sides (Summer Hill, All Saints and Mount View), from which Summer Hill scored  $4\frac{1}{2}$  points, All Saints 4 and Mount View only  $3\frac{1}{2}$ . So, second to Summer Hill, third to All Saints and fourth to an unlucky Mount View; but an excellent recovery by both the NSW and Queensland sides...

Standings: 1st Hawker (ACT) 14½/20; 2nd = Summer Hill (NSW), All Saints (QLD), Mount View (VIC) 11½; 5th Mitcham (SA) 8½; 6th Lake Joondalup (WA) 2½.

GIRLS SECONDARY: A look at the top boards may have led one to believe that defending champions North Sydney Girls (NSW) would be facing a tough test, even with their top board Deborah Ng – she was likely to be challenged by the Board 1's from PLC (VIC), Sally Yu; Somerset College (QLD), Jessica Kinder; and Daramalan (ACT), Luthien Russell. But North Sydney clearly meant business right from the start! Their 4-0 Round 1 win over Loreto College (QLD) saw them early leaders, though only narrowly from Somerset (who beat Somerville House (QLD) 3½-1½). An early shock was perhaps the first round 2½-1½ win by Daramalan over PLC, aided and abetted by a win on forfeit by Luthien Russell over Sally Yu after the latter failed to make it back in time from the World Youth Championships in Turkey! Sally showed no ill effects from jet lag as she calmly won pawns to beat her fellow World Youth participant, Jessica Kinder, as part of PLC's second round 3-1 win over Somerset. But North Sydney were already away to 7/8 and a 2½ point lead after beating Daramalan 3-1, despite Deborah Ng's shock loss to Luthien Russell; in one move, poor Deborah turned a won king and pawn ending into a lost one... Somerville rounded off Round 2 with a 3½-1½ win over Loreto. Round 3 then saw Deborah hold a draw with Sally in an even queen and minor piece ending, North Sydney winning all other boards to win 3½-1½ and reach 1½/12. This saw them lead by 2 points going into the second day from Somerset, who beat Loreto 4-0; while Daramalan remained in contention on 6½/12 after defeating Somerville 3-1.

The big match in Round 4 saw Jessica successfully attack Deborah to win their crucial top board game; at least we thought it would be crucial, till the tactics all worked out in favour of the North Sydney girls on the lower boards to enable all of them to win and triumph 3-1! So their title was safely defended with a round to spare, as they reached 13½/16 and a 4 point lead from Somerset and Daramalan (beat Loreto 3-1). Meanwhile Somerville's shock 2½-1½ win against PLC seemed to put the Victorians out of contention for even a minor place; the second Queensland school were on 7½ in fourth place, a point ahead of PLC! Fortunately for PLC this situation did not persist, as North Sydney put paid to Somerville 3-1 in the last round; PLC were thereby able to easily overtake them by beating Loreto 4-0. PLC even thought this may be enough for third place after Somerset took care of Daramalan 3-1, Jessica beating Luthien with a skewer to take from her the prize of top scorer on top board; PLC were now level with Daramalan on 1½/20. But sadly for PLC the Canberra school's tiebreak was better and they took third, while Somerset easily claimed outright second on 12½/20.

Standings: 1st North Sydney (NSW) 16½/20; 2nd Somerset (QLD) 12½; = 3rd Daramalan (ACT), PLC (VIC) 10½; 5th Somerville House (QLD) 8½; 6th Loreto (QLD) 1½.

OPEN SECONDARY: Defending champions Balwyn High (VIC) were always going to be hard to beat here, especially with their top board Chris Wallis being one of the favourites for the upcoming Australian Junior Championships in Sydney. However, we thought they may be pushed by 2005 champions St. Peter's (SA), also with a very strong top board in James Obst; and could Knox Grammar (NSW) improve on their second place from last year? After their first round 4-0 win against Applecross (WA), we thought the answer was yes; but Balwyn also stamped their authority with a 4-0 win against Hawker College (ACT), while St. Peter's could only manage a 2½-1½ win against King's Christian College (QLD), a school with good depth (four tough players). Round 2 told us a bit more, as King's beat Applecross 3½-½ and then Balwyn put paid to St. Peter's 2½-1½. It could have been even better for Balwyn, as James Obst pushed too hard to win a drawn knight ending against Chris Wallis and ended up in an inferior position; but James is nothing if not a fighter, and his fight here ended up turning the game around in time pressure into a win! Speaking of turning games around, Sherab Guo-Yuthok was in a dead lost rook ending pawns down when his opponent, James Cronan, walked into a mating net and lost; with their Board 3 also failing to win an ending 3 pawns up (he allowed a stalemate trick!), Knox could only draw 2-2 with Hawker in the end...

If that was not bad enough for Knox, Round 3 was worse; in a stunning upset, despite out-rating their opponents, they went down 4-0 to King's! The big shocks were Sam Grigg's tactical victory against James Cronan on Board 1, and Daniel Ford beating Jeffrey Tse on Board 2; this enabled King's to reach 9/12 and stay close to Balwyn... Meanwhile the latter kept rolling on, beating Applecross 4-0 to reach 1½/12; while St. Peter's stayed in the hunt on 7/12 by beating Hawker 3-1. If there was any doubt about Balwyn, they put it to rest in Round 4 by grinding down King's 4-0; their title defence wrapped up with a round to spare! But the battle for second was well and truly on, as Knox finally played a good match to beat St. Peter's 2½-1½ (three draws and a win); it could have been even better if James Cronan had converted his won ending an exchange ahead against James Obst... (In the other Round 4 match, Hawker beat Applecross 3-1). Sadly Knox could not maintain form in the last round, as Balwyn easily disposed of them 3-1. But the battle for second was on in earnest, as King's beat Hawker 3-1 to leave St. Peter's needing 4-0 to against Applecross to overtake them. In this they failed, as 3-1 was all they could do; so King's took second on 12, half a point clear of St. Peter's who had to content themselves with third for the second year in a row on 11½.

Standings: 1st Balwyn High (VIC) 17½/20; 2nd King's (QLD) 12, 3rd St. Peter's (SA) 11½; 4th Knox (NSW) 9½; 5th Hawker (ACT) 7; 6th Applecross (WA) 2½.

Many thanks must go to all the organisers for doing a magnificent job of organising the event, but most especially Dawn Ford for her fabulous canteen! I believe everyone enjoyed themselves, regardless of results. This event just seems to get better and better. I look forward to the next one in Adelaide in 2008...
